

Effects of negative ion on health

Negative ion suppresses the activities of reactive oxygen species (ROS) and induces ageing-preventing anti-oxidation by increasing the level of electrons in blood. High concentration of negative ion enhances blood circulation and metabolism, which leads to enhanced immunity level. That is, by rejuvenating body cells, it aids medical treatments and restores health. Negative ion detoxifies your body, eases fatigue and provides a quick relief to the tight feeling muscles at every corner of your body.
